J.K. Rowling is releasing her first children's story, written before Harry Potter, free to read on her website. There are chapters available now! "The Ickabog" tells the story of the mostly bountiful kingdom of Cornucopia, where a mythical monster, the Ickabog, lives "at the very northernmost tip of the country, in a wide patch of dark and often misty marsh too dangerous for humans to enter." Budding young artists (like all you fab Strangfordians) can also enter their drawings into a competition with the chance of being included in the printed version of the book when it is released in November later this year. Go to the website below for more information and let us know if you are considering entering!!

If there was ever a reason needed to get reading and drawing more - this is it!
Good luck everyone!
